Gamble Library

Staff and student members of the Gamble Library have access to Atla Religion Database with AtlaSerials PLUS. These give access to thousands of journal articles and indexed records (e.g. articles in edited books – Festschriften, symposia and conference proceedings etc.) which can be searched. To search:

1. Go to the 'Digital resources from the Gamble Library' section of your module shell and click on the Atlas PLUS icon. You will be prompted to enter your Union Theological College email address and password. You will then be redirected to the Atla landing page. (You can also access Atla using the PDF Gamble Guide listing all electronic resources which is emailed out by the Librarian).

2. Click on the words beside 'Searching' just above the search boxes and select 'Atla Religion Database with AtlaSerials PLUS' if you only want journal articles, book reviews, essays etc. in your results.

How you link your keywords in searches using AND, OR, NOT is really important.

AND Results include both terms. Narrows down search.	OR Results include one term or another. Broadens search.	NOT Results include first term and not second. Narrows down search.

AND between keywords and phrases will give results which include both terms or phrases. This narrows down the search and you should get fewer results.

Abstract

This article examines the contributions of Ernest van Eck concerning the interpretation of parables in the Gospel of Luke. Parables are means of communication in first-century Palestine during the ministry of Jesus. Often concepts, ideas, and images familiar to and evoking the social realities and cultural scripts of the audience are engaged in the composition of parables. Jesus did not depart from the means of communication of his audience, including the religious leaders. Parables occupy a substantial place in the teachings of Jesus in the Gospels. The church fathers engaged allegorism in the interpretation of the parables which makes general the meaning of

Search strategies

- Think about keywords and related items linked to the topic you are looking for information on. Plan your searches and keep brief notes on your searches to avoid time-wasting repetition. Use a thesaurus or dictionary to help.
- Think about how the terms can be linked together within the search using AND, OR, NOT.
- Use related terms, as required, when searching. If you get too few results you may need to widen the search by using a broader term. For example, if you search for ‘Philemon’ and get very few results, you could search for ‘Pauline Epistle,’ which will hopefully return more results. If your search returns too many results, which are often irrelevant, you may need to narrow it down by using a narrower term. For example, if you searched for ‘heresy’ and got too many results, try searching again for ‘Arianism’ and you will get fewer, more relevant results. A thesaurus, either in hardcopy or online, should help with identifying related terms and synonyms.
- Search for synonyms, e.g. death, deceased, passing, etc.
- Alternative spellings, such as, honor/honour, neighbor/neighbour, can be searched for using the wildcard #. For example, col#r, will find, color and colour.
- Variations in root words, prefixes, suffixes and plurals. For example, lead, mislead, leadership, leading, leader, leaders. Wildcards and truncation can be used if you want to find all words related to the root word. This is when you use a symbol to replace letters at the end of, or in words. In ATLA Databases ? is used to replace each unknown character.

Clear All Apply

For example, m?n finds references to man and men. Truncation is performed using  to replace several consecutive characters. For example, lead* would search for lead, leader, leaders, leadership, leading etc. Please note that wildcards and truncation cannot be combined for a single term in a search, e.g. p#ediatric* would be the same as a search for p* and would not be very useful. The symbol * can be used to match an unknown word in a phrase e.g. midsummer * dream.

- When a singular word is searched for, the plural and possessive forms will also be searched. However, if the singular word is enclosed in quotation marks, only the singular word will be returned. For instance, Gospel will return Gospel, Gospels, Gospel's. However, "Gospel" will only return Gospel.
- When a plural term is searched for, the search engine will automatically search for the singular form of the term. If the plural is spelt differently (e.g. child, children) the search is not automatically expanded.
- Think about changes in place names. For instance, Myanmar, Burma
- It can be useful to search for a phrase as it makes your search more exact. A phrase is a series of words in the order entered, with no other words between. The phrase should be entered in quotation marks. For example, "Synoptic Gospels."
- To search for an article when you have more than one of the authors' names, separate them with AND. E.g. To search for a work by John Smith and Jane Jones, enter Smith AND Jones or Smith John AND Jones Jane or John Smith AND Jane Jones. The search phrase Smith Jones will not find the item: it will only retrieve items by authors named "Smith Jones" or "Jones Smith."
- Parentheses (brackets) can be used. Terms inside these are searched first.
- Near operator Ndigit E.g. N3 finds the words if they are within three words of one another regardless of the order they appear in - Miracles N3 Jesus.
- Within operator Wdigit E.g. W4 finds the words if they are within four words of one another in the order in which they were entered - Synoptic W4 Gospels.
